RMS School Year Ends With Major Construction

By Laura Pedulli

Like every year, children at Rochester Memorial School eagerly filed out the building for the last day of school, exuberant with the promise of summer.

Then, as tradition dictates, teachers, staff and even Principal Jay Ryan, serenaded the children with tunes including "Ode To Joy" as about a half dozen buses continually looped the front circle. Little hands peeked out from windows waving goodbye and screams of delight filled the air in concert with the sounds of horns, drums, and tambourines from staff bidding adieu to their students.

The feeling in the air was different, though, as the students were leaving a campus that will undergo major transformations during the summer months. In the fall, children will return to a campus with a new building and major renovations completed in the existing facility. Although the entire $26 million addition and renovation project will not be completed until September 2011, the bulk of the work will occur this summer.

As the final bus departed school grounds, diggers and other heavy machinery were hard at work in the back preparing the foundation for a new building.

Children left the school grounds with idle time on their hands, but teachers turned right back around into the building with much work at hand. It was Thursday, June 17, around 1:00 pm. Teachers had until 4:00 pm on Friday, June 18, to finish packing their belongings. Most classrooms already contained boxes stacked high with supplies and books, but the staff had to be sure everything was packed and ready for contractors to move. Once the area was sealed off, they could not return.

Before setting to work, RMS staff and teachers enjoyed lunch in the cafeteria while participating in a raffle that raised money for college scholarships.

"Because of the quality of the consultant, it has been really smooth. The scope of what we had to do was made easier by the planning of the construction," Mr. Ryan said as he collected the goods on a winning ticket.

Librarian Lucille Morris also enjoyed a short break before returning to perhaps the most difficult room to clear out: the library media center. Without parents who volunteered their time to pack and move books, she said the task would have been nearly impossible. "We are blessed with a great community," she said.

In a creative method to move books out the library, Ms. Morris encouraged students to check out 10 books for the summer. "It was that much less to pack," she said. Ms. Morris joked that her 20-year tenure at RMS did not help matters as she had to sort through two decades of files. "I think we should move every year," she joked.

The principal's secretary – Diane Lagasse – spoke extensively about the long hours logged by staff and volunteers to ensure a successful move. "I can't tell you the number of extra hours people worked... and the extent of packing everything in the room. A lot of people worked weekends and late hours trying to get everything done. This speaks to the dedication of the staff," she said. As full-year employees, Ms. Lagasse and Mr. Ryan are relocating to the district office at Old Rochester Regional during the summer.

Special education teacher Anne Fernandez also commended the parent volunteers who came out in droves to assist with the effort. Overall, she said: "It was a lot more work than expected, but it is going better than anticipated," she said. Ms. Fernandez added: "Everyone pitches in; it is a giving building. We take care of each other."

Overall, Ms. Fernandez is thrilled by the project and how it will benefit the RMS students and staff. "Taxpayers are good to this whole community to support this school," she said.

Despite the short-term pain of the move, the staff members agreed that the long term benefit of new and updated facilities to accommodate Rochester's growing population makes the effort worth it.

relationship that blossomed from the experience "a joy."

Ms. Rolli is one of five volunteers currently working in the Marion Friendly Visitors program. According to Marion Council on Aging director Susan Schwager, one of the greatest challenges facing a council on aging is outreach, particularly to homebound senior residents. Many homebound seniors suffer from loneliness and depression, and may not know the resources available to them. This elder outreach program was developed in 2006 to meet the needs of seniors who cannot come into the COA.

The Friendly Visitor program started as a collaborative effort with Rochester and Mattapoisett to facilitate socialization for homebound elders. The project was made possible by a grant from the Massachusetts office of elder affairs; since then, Marion's program expanded to the Friendly Visitor Program that now services five homebound Marion residents, but Ms. Schwager hopes to add more elders to their program.

Friendly Visitor volunteers keep their visits strictly social, and do not administer any sort of services, medical or otherwise. Ms. Schwager tries to match them based on interests and compatibility. For instance, if a volunteer likes knitting or crossword puzzles, they will visit an elder with a similar interest.

Ms. Rolli was one of those volunteers that was paired with a friend named Irene over three years ago. They were originally paired based on the fact that they both loved to knit, but her elder friend's eyesight has ended her knitting days. Instead, Nancy and Irene, one generation apart, are just dear companions.

Even after Irene took a bad fall and had to be placed in a nursing home outside of Marion, Ms. Rolli followed her friend wherever she went – first Bourne, and now Brockton.

"We just became great friends," said Ms. Rolli, who visited with her elder friend every Monday for an hour or so when she lived in Marion. "I just loved visiting with her." Even now that Irene is living in a nursing home in Brockton, Ms. Rolli still continues to visit her on a regular basis.

"I would hope that some day, if I'm widowed and alone, someone would come visit me," said Ms. Rolli, who noted that although visits from family are nice too, there is something special about a visit from someone who is simply just a friend. "We spend our time just talking and laughing. I love the woman... she has become like a surrogate mother to me."

Interestingly enough, Ms. Schwager said that there is less of a challenge finding volunteers and more of a challenge in finding homebound elders. "I know there are seniors out there that we aren't reaching," she said.

All volunteers are CORI-checked and receive program training, including basic emergency training, but Ms. Schwager insists that these visits these are "strictly house-visits." Visitors meet with their elders once a week and are asked to commit to a full year in the beginning. Not surprisingly, the visitors end up forming strong bonds with their elder.

In addition to meeting with their elders regularly, volunteers get together twice a year to collaborate and discuss their experiences. "It's just so rewarding for both," said Ms. Schwager. "It's not just for the elder. It's for the volunteer as well."

Ms. Rolli added, "You get more than you give when you volunteer. Everyone can find an hour."

Currently, there are three volunteers looking for placement with an elder. Ms. Schwager urges families of homebound elders to consider reaching out to the Council on Aging for placement and promises that visitors don't care about a pristine home or anything other than keeping a person company. Likewise, anyone interested in volunteering for the COA is encouraged to contact Ms. Schwager.

Hall. Also present were committee members Norman Lyonnais, Paul Milott, Gene Deslandes, Susan Akin, and Mattapoisett Building Inspector Andrew Bobola.

For the first public hearing, John Menezes of 3 Church Street Extension requested a special permit to allow the display of three retail sheds (six-by-eight feet) on his property in addition to the ability to use two parking spaces for U-Haul vehicles. Mr. Menezes introduced himself as a hardworking business owner who serves more than 3,000 people per year. He said despite some success with his business, Mattapoisett Power Equipment, he still is in the red and thus wishes to "increase income to see the light of day." His ventures to sell sheds and lease out U-Haul trucks or trailers are a means of staying financially afloat, he said.

Abutter Sandy Dawson – representing approximately eight to ten additional neighbors who attended the meeting – presented a list of concerns related to Mr. Menezes's application. Foremost, she said customers and residents of the business frequently park on the road, creating a safety hazard. She said that the parked vehicles create visibility concerns when maneuvering on and off Route 6.

Mr. Menezes currently has nine parking spaces on his property, and Ms. Dawson maintained that these spaces are inadequate and that too many cars park on the road. Mr. Bobola clarified that the spots at his business are separate from Mr. Menezes's residential parking and that two off-street spots legally are permitted for each residence. Ms. Dawson showed a recent photo of six vehicles at Mr. Menezes' business, but Ms. Akin pointed out that six occupied spots were acceptable under the bylaws.

Ms. Dawson also submitted an engineer's map showing that Mr. Menezes' fence is on the street line – not the property line – and some disagreement arose to the accuracy of the map. Mr. Menezes contended that the fence indeed is properly erected and argued that the map was drawn incorrectly. Ms. Dawson said that if the map indeed was accurate, Mr. Menezes would be required to move his fence back 7.5 to 11.25 feet.

On the topic of U-Hauls, Ms. Dawson and abutters expressed concerns about their size and the odd times of day they enter the property. She showed a variety of photos of U-Hauls as taken from neighbors' windows of the property in question. "I feel it imposes upon our peace and serenity to see something commercial like that," said abutter Tom Silvia. Another neighbor recalled visibility issues when Mr. Menezes sold Christmas trees on his lot last winter. Mr. Menezes replied that the proposed sheds would be placed further back on his property than the trees.

However, Mr. Menezes did say that due to the neighbor opposition of the U-Hauls, he would accept removing that request from his application.

One neighbor – Paul Riley – spoke in support of Mr. Menezes. "He is a good man trying to take care of his family; it is his neighbors who are a problem ... he is a blessing to this town," he said.

Another abutter said in general he is concerned about the "incremental degradation of peace and quiet" and that the business is slowly going beyond the bounds of what is appropriate for its location. Abutter Brandon Perry cited problems with increased traffic due to elevated business at Mr. Menezes. "When is it going to end?" he asked.

During deliberation on the hearing, Mr. Lyonnais said he felt the size of the sheds presented safety concerns and that Mr. Menezes was taking his business "to another level of occupancy" that was inappropriate. Mr. Deslandes agreed that the sheds would impede motorists' view of traffic of cars coming from Marion.

Ms. Akin stated that she personally never had trouble with traffic at that location and did not feel that new sheds would cause any safety issues. She noted that Mr. Menezes was just having trouble surviving and should be entitled to his business. Ms. Brogran concurred: "If [the property] is zoned general business, he should be allowed to have a business." However, both members had issues with the U-Haul proposal and recommended denying that part of the application.

In his comments, Mr. Milott said he personally visited the site and believed there would be no safety concerns with the sheds due to their proposed location.

He agreed that the U-Haul request should be denied. "If you are in the U-Haul business, you are either in all the way or not at all," he said.

In the end, the board voted 4-1 – with Mr. Lyonnais the sole member in opposition – to approve the sheds but deny the U-Haul operation with the conditions that the sheds be no more than ten feet high, that off-street parking issues be addressed, and that a new engineer's map be completed to ensure proper fencing.

In the second public hearing, attorney Daniel Perry represented James Kay – manager at 6 Water Street – in a special permit request to allow two commercial occupants on the first floor. Mr. Perry said the 1840 building has a long history of multiuse, including retail, and requested that his client be allowed to use the space for professional services and retail. Currently, the only acceptable uses of the building are residential and for office uses, he said. He said Mr. Kay is looking to rent the space to tenants who want to offer yoga classes.

After a brief deliberation, the board approved to special permit request unanimously to allow Mr. Kay an additional occupant and to expand the allowed uses for his property to professional services and retail.

The board voted to adjourn at 7:45 pm.

Board Approves Bond For Connet Woods

Rochester Planning Board

By Laura Pedulli

A meeting of the Rochester Planning Board was called to order by Gary Florindo on June 22, 2010 at 7:10 pm at the Rochester Town Hall. Also present were committee members Robert Cummings, Dan McGaffey, the new board member Bendrix Bailey, and Planning Board Secretary Shirley Darcy. Chairman Arnie Johnson and John DeMaggio did not attend. Kenny Motta from Field Engineering also was present.

As the first order of business, the board approved the May 25 minutes unanimously. Soon thereafter, the board approved vouchers for postage, office supplies, and planning work by consultant Phil Herr.

Then Tim Higgins, a developer of Connet Woods, approached the board to request a reduction of a $1 million bond. Entering the discussion, Mr. Higgins initially brought up a discrepancy between his estimates and Mr. Motta's estimates that document how much money would be required in the bond to finish work required by the special permit. Motta's estimate requires a $200,000 bond and Mr. Higgins estimated $51,000.

"I can't imagine I'm missing your number by $150,000," Mr. Higgins stated. Mr. Higgins and Mr. Motta then compared notes on required work, with Mr. Motta noting that the developer failed to account for required shoulder work, signage on access roads, and a well-graded road. Mr. Florindo weighed in, stating that, "as long as [Mr. Higgins] grades it, I think it is fine the way it is." Mr. Higgins noted that a gate currently blocks out vehicles from entering the property, thus thorough road maintenance and signage are not yet important but will be at a later stage.

After a lengthy discussion on work required for the access road and whether signs are necessary, the board agreed that the road "has so be passable, but not perfect," as Mr. Cummings described it, and that the required 17 signs in Mr. Motta's report would be dropped to six signs. In the end, the board unanimously approved an $187,438 bond with 50 percent contingency for the developer.

Attendee Susan Peterson – the official Southeastern Regional Planning and Economic Development District (SRPEDD) representative who advocates for open space – then discussed funds available through SRPEDD to assist with the development of a town-wide plan. Mr. Cummings stated that he would discuss with consultant Mr. Herr, who has worked extensively on a land-use plan for the town center, on what kind of assistance would be appropriate.

Ms. Peterson noted that the application for funding is due by July 16. "When there is free money out there, we don't want it to go away," she said, adding that she anticipates the funding will not be available after this year. Mr. Cummings then offered to submit the application by the deadline.

Ms. Peterson also initiated a conversation about drafting a transferable development bylaw and offered to bring in experts to the board to discuss the benefits of such a bylaw. Noting that Rochester currently is interviewing candidates for a new part-time town planner to share with Wareham, Mr. Cummings recommended waiting until that person assumes his or her position before continuing that discussion. On that topic, the board decided that Mr. Cummings, Mr. McGaffey, and Chairperson Johnson would serve on the interview team for the search for a new planner.

With nothing left on the agenda, the planning board voted to adjourn at 8:11 pm.

Cumberland Farms Presents Revised Site Plan

Marion Planning Board

By Laura Pedulli

A regular meeting of the Marion Planning Board was called to order by Chairman Jay Ryder on Monday, June 21 at 7:18 pm in the Marion Town Hall. Also present were board members Joseph Napoli, Steve Gonsalves, Tom Magauran, John Sweeney, Ray Crowley, Sherman Briggs and Planning Board Secretary Terry Santos.

As the first order of business, the board voted to continue an ANR hearing at a later date for Moore Marion Trust II. Mr. Magauran explained that Dan Aguiar of Sitec Inc – who is representing the applicant – requested additional time to finalize easement language for a common driveway on a subdivided lot.

The board then opened up multiple hearings pertaining to a proposal to expand the existing Cumberland Farms at 406 Wareham Street. The applicant seeks a special permit for setbacks, a special permit for the store to operate as a retail establishment, and an approval of a new site plan.

Rob Pellegrini, an attorney representing

Cumberland Farms, then requested the board to review all comments aloud for their response. Comments included that the board should obtain legal assistance with handling the proposal, that the expansion project is inappropriate for Marion, that a 24-hour operation would increase crime, and that the lighting would block views of the night sky. The Conservation Committee, Board of Health and the Zoning Board of Appeals offered no comment on the proposal.

Mr. Pellegrini then discussed changes to a draft site plan. The company scaled back its building size from 3,751 square feet in its original proposal to 3,593 square feet. Further, a redesign of the proposal substantially narrows the curb cuts and includes designated one-way lanes for entry and exit into the gas station. Also, the applicant added more landscaping, in particular at the corner of Route 6 and Front Street.

Jack O'Leary of Merrill and Associates then presented to the board more specifics of the modified proposal. He discussed how the business would service single-unit trucks and tractors with the reduced curb cuts. Giles Hamm also spoke on behalf of Cumberland Farms about the proposal, stating that the expanded operation would add nine to 32 new customer trips during peak hours. He also described the designated one-way exits and entrances as safer. "The new plan is much, much safer than the existing one. It is a much better plan for traffic conditions," he said.

In response to Mr. Ryder's concern that people will use the one-way lanes to both enter and exit, Mr. Giles said that signage will direct customers in and out of the parking lot. "Narrowing up with signage is a standard practice," he assured the board, stating that the Massachusetts Department of Transportation (DOT) is in agreement with the proposed changes. The board agreed to have their own conversation with DOT about the safety of the proposed curb cuts.

In addition, Mr. O'Leary said, "the entire front of the site will have new sidewalks with new ramps." Mr. Ryder noted, however, that that plows would pile snow on the sidewalks. "They will be unusable in the winter," he said. Mr. Giles said that snow removal is an issue between the town and the DOT, but Mr. Magauran countered that the developer may need a sidewalk plan.

Mr. Pellegrini addressed the lighting issue, stating that the proposed Cumberland Farms' lighting "is natural looking" and would utilize full cut-off fixtures that prevent light spillage. "It uses little electricity and is very efficient... It is a low glare, low wattage solution," he said. He also stated that the business is careful not to illuminate upwards. "Cumberland Farms does not play games with their lighting," he said.

On the topic of storm water removal, Mr. O'Leary presented a proposal for the business to replace inadequate off-site pipes so the system will function in a normal manner. "Cumberland Farms is willing to replace pipes off-site as a condition of approval," he said.

On comments pertaining to turning the gas station into a 24-hour operation, Ms. Crowley expressed concerns of "an influx of ebullient young men."

"This is more of a convenience, like someone who needs to go out and get something for his sick child in the middle of the night ... It is not a policing issue. If it was, we wouldn't be asking for it," he said, noting that no alcohol is sold at the store. Mr. Magauran responded that the board is not only concerned about crime, but whether a 24-hour operation fits "community character."

Identifying herself as a Cumberland Farms patron, one neighbor commented: "At the wee hours, they don't carry the products needed in an emergency situation," she said, adding, "The majority of products are not healthy foods, but junk foods. It is a supersize situation. I question if Marion needs a supersize store."

The question as to whether the Cumberland Farms across the street would close down following an expanded operation was up in the air. Mr. Pellegrini could not directly answer that question and only said he is open to working with the board on that matter.

In a discussion on the expanded food offerings – which includes hotdogs on a roller heater – Mr. Magauran said, "It still baffles me why you are not applying for fast food." Manny Paiva, another Cumberland Farms representative at the hearing, noted that no raw food would be prepared at the store. "I don't think this comes close to a fast food establishment," said Mr. Pellegrini.

In comments on the proposed construction material, including vinyl siding and concrete composite, Mr. Magauran said, "It looks like you are going cheap on us." He added that Marion values consistency in architecture and material with wood-like qualities. Mr. Pellegrini assured him that the vinyl siding is "high grade" and that "it is nothing like what you see on houses. It looks much better. And you are dealing with a commercial enterprise that would clean it regularly. It actually looks good," he said. Mr. Ryder noted that architects would be hired to assess the store.

Also, Mr. Magauran expressed disappointment that the Cumberland Farms store is not right on the corner, as the board had suggested. "I understand what you are trying to do, but it would not function in a way that it needs to function," said Mr. Pellegrini. He then explored the reasons why the store could not sit close to the road, including that an employee-only back entrance is required, that the clerk needs visibility to see the pumps, and that it would affect deliveries. "The reasons are economic, safety, and just plan practical for not having it on the corner," he said.

The board then voted to continue public hearings related to Cumberland Farms on July 19 at 7:30 pm. Shortly thereafter, the May 10 and May 24 minutes were approved with two abstentions.

A quick conversation arose about the need to pay Cornish Associates for a draft report on a possible new

Attack Cat

My one year old cat stalks me as I walk around the house and frequently attacks my ankles. He doesn't try to hurt me but how can I get him to stop this behavior?

If your cat is an exclusively indoor pet, he may be exhibiting normal hunting behavior. Cats are natural predators and your cat is simply acting instinctively. Make a toy out of a ball of aluminum foil on a string tied to a stick. Try to get the cat to focus on hunting something other than your ankles.

I have dragged a string on the floor that he will stalk but it doesn't seem to lessen the ankle attacks. Any other suggestions?

First, I'd avoid letting your cat play with a simple piece of string. If he plays with string when you are not present and swallows some, it may require intestinal surgery to remove it.

If your cat requires more play time than you can provide, consider adopting a kitten. There is no guarantee that they will get along, but since your cat is still young he will probably gladly accept a new playmate. Cause for Paws in Mattapoisett, A Helping Paw in Buzzards Bay, South Coast Humane Society in Dartmouth and Petfinder.com have many kitten available for adoption at this time of year.

Selectmen Paul Silva and George Randall, Town Administrator Michael Gagne and Assistant to the Selectmen Melody Pacheco.

After the Pledge of Allegiance and a moment of silence for those who have served and those currently in the service, the Board discussed a concession bid for the town beach. The only bidder was Louise Vandal of the Seaport Coffee Shop. The proposed concession stand will offer simple, cold items like sandwiches and beverages and will be open from 10:30 to 3:30 daily. The Board approved this bid.

In their first appointment, the Board met with Allen Decker, who requested a conservation restriction for a 24-acre plot of land with frontage on Acushnet Road.

The land, which has Tripps Mill Brook at its northern border, was purchased by the Coalition for Buzzard's Bay from Dennis Mahoney and Sons. An $85,000 conservation partnership grant from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts will help the Coalition keep the area free from development, with the exception of a small parking area. The Coalition has worked with, and received approval from, the Mattapoissett Conservation Commission, and the parcel of land has been state approved for several uses, including: habitat restoration, passive public access for flora and fauna observation, and general conservation. Mr. Decker sought the Board of Selectmen's approval of the conservation restriction as well. The Board approved this request and signed the necessary paperwork.

In a second appointment, the Board opened a public hearing with general manager Jim Neville to discuss an increase in the above-ground storage tank capacity at the Sea Gas facility, located at 8 Industrial Drive. The increase would provide an additional 20,000 gallons of tank storage at the facility, making their aggregate total 80,000 gallons on site. "We are not asking for additional 'true gallons'," said Mr. Neville. "We are not asking for anything new." Mr. Neville said that this request has been worked on for some time, initially with former Town Administrator Michael Botelho, now Mr. Gagne, former Fire Chief Scott, the state fire marshal, and has been approved by current Fire Chief Andrew Murray.

The request was made by Sea Gas so the company could meet new codes and restrictions "for licensing purposes", according to Mr. Neville, who also said that the tanks "won't sit in the yard filled".

With no one present to object to, or comment on, the proposed gallon increase, the Board voted to approve the request and Chairman Collyer closed the hearing.

At this point in the meeting, the Board voted to approve the minutes of the June 8 meeting, both open and executive session.

In a third appointment, the Board met with building inspector Andy Bobola, who presented a list of suggested building, plumbing and wire town permits that he had drafted with Administrative Assistant Maria Cananzy. The list of increases was based on the current rates that other area municipalities with a population of under 10,000 people currently employ. The proposed fee schedule would include shed permit fees ranging from $50-75, deck permit fees starting at $75, and buildable lot inquiries at $100. Mr. Bobola's list was given to the Board for informational purposes; the Board agreed to review the list and act on it formally at the July 13 meeting.

In a final appointment, the Mattapoisett Housing Partnership (MHP) met with the Board to discuss the town's strategic housing plan. MHP had a rough draft of the strategic housing plan available for the Board, and member Ray Andrews said that there were approximately 50 copies available in the Selectmen office for town boards and committees to review. Mr. Andrews said that the strategic housing plan was an attempt to address the "critically short" supply of affordable housing in town. The housing plan, which aims to make Mattapoisett accessible to young couples and retiring citizens who wish to remain in their town, includes suggestions from SRPEDD (Southeastern Regional Planning and Economic Development District); MHP member Randall Kunz is currently the Chairperson of the SRPEDD commission.

Mr. Andrews said that the housing plan "is a long, document with a tremendous amount of information", providing a "guideline for the next step." The members of MHP hope the town departments will review the housing plan draft and provide feedback by September 22 so a finalized version can be produced in time for the 2011 Annual Town Meeting.

The Board voiced support for the housing plan, with Selectman Silva saying it was "a shame" when residents of the town have to leave to find affordable housing elsewhere. Mr. Andrews pointed out that the town has limited owned land, therefore, a private/public partnership, like the one employed in Marion at the Little Neck Village for senior housing, would be necessary.

"And there's nothing wrong with that," said Selectman Silva.

"No, not at all," agreed Mr. Andrews.

Mr. Kunz referred to the housing plan as a "Friendly 40B" that would not be as contentious as some

Under his Town Administrator's report, Mr. Gagne gave the Board a report on what an ad-hoc Aquaculture Committee would look like and what it would discuss. The ad-hoc committee will ideally consist of seven members, including: a representative of the commercial shell-fishing community, a non-commercial residential shell-fisherman, a waterfront property owner, the shellfish officer, the harbormaster (or a member of the Marine Advisory Committee), a Selectman, and a citizen at-large. The topics that the ad-hoc committee will tackle include:

• How does the community balance the interests of commercial shell-fishermen, recreational water users, abutting land owners and recreational shell-fishermen?

• Should the community set aside specific areas for aquaculture, or should all waters be open for consideration?

• How should the town approach the issue of license-transfers?

• Upon Selectman Silva's request, the committee may also consider having the town remain the holder of all permits to be auctioned out its discretion.

Mr. Gagne also said he was seeking members for the Agricultural Commission (AgCom), which was approved at the 2010 Annual Town Meeting and officially accepted into Mattapoisett's bylaws. Anyone interested in the AgCom, particularly residents with an interest in agricultural matters, should contact Mr. Gagne at the town hall: 508-758-4100, ext. 4.

In his final administrator report item, Mr. Gagne informed the Board and the public that the Tri-Town Farmers' Market would begin on Tuesday, June 29 and would be located on the lawn in front of the Old Rochester Regional Junior High School. The farmers' market, which will take place every Tuesday until mid-October, will be from 4:00 to 7:00 pm.

There being no more public business, the Board voted to go into executive session at 8:10 pm for the purpose of collective bargaining.

Joint Committee Wraps Up School Year

Joint School Committee

By Anne O'Brien-Kakley

A scheduled joint meeting of the Old Rochester Regional District School Committee and the Superintendency Union #55 Committee was called to order by ORR School Committee chairperson Peter Bangs and Union Committee chairperson Sharon Hartley on June 17, 2010 at 6:30 pm.

Dr. Bangs observed that this meeting was the final school committee meeting for the 2009/2010 year, calling it, "a busy and productive year".

In her Chairperson's report, Ms. Hartley praised the recent ORR graduation, saying, "I was so proud of our district. It was a wonderful graduation... The students were just perfect. Spectacular. They were stars."

In his Chairperson's report, Dr. Bangs echoed Ms. Hartley's statements on the graduation exercises and introduced the recently elected Dan Goodman (representing Mattapoisett) to the rest of the ORR committee; Ms. Hartley introduced newly elected Tom Shire (representing Marion) to the committee as well.

In his Superintendent's report, Douglas White thanked everyone for their efforts throughout the year. "Experiences for all the students were fantastic," he said, and he thanked the committees for helping him get acclimated to his position over the past five months.

Mr. White informed the committees that the school choice lottery had been completed on Monday, June 19. There are 31 students in the school choice program currently, with seven more students remaining on the waiting list.

According to Mr. White, there could still be a threat to transportation budgeting for the 2010/2011 school year. Potential changes in Chapter 70 funding could represent a transportation budget decrease of three to four percent.

Committee member Jane McCarthy took a moment to inform the committees that the Lighthouse Fund, which raises money for education initiatives and scholarships for Tri-Town students, now has a Facebook page. To find it, search "The Lighthouse Fund" on

The SU#55 committee then took the opportunity to reorganize, but voted to maintain status quo, with Sharon Hartley remaining as chairperson and Grace Knox remaining as vice-chairperson.

At this point in the meeting, both committees voted to approve the minutes of the March 25 joint committee meeting.

In a discussion on regionalization of grades K-6, the committees resolved to galvanize their reasons for promoting regionalization with subcommittee meetings over the summer. That way, they can comprehensively approach the topic with the public at-large afterwards, once they solidify the benefits of K-6 regionalization, namely: budgetary reasons, improved resources for students, etc. Dr. Bangs indicated that they would want to have one lay townsperson on the committee as well, possibly long-time committee member John Russell, who recently retired from school committees, but could still provide a lot of professional advice on the topic.

The regionalization subcommittee, which will include Tom Shire, Dr. Bangs, Jane McCarthy and Charles Motta, among other members, will report back to the joint committee at a meeting early in the 2010/2011 school year. Part of the regionalization study will include exploring grant options.

In the topic of professional development for the upcoming school year, Mr. White said that he recently conducted a "Survey Monkey" online survey of teachers in the district regarding their thoughts on professional development needs. According to Mr. White, 42 percent of staff participated in the survey, which was the first of its kind. Based on the results of the survey, Mr. White determined a need for professional development in the areas of: technology, response to intervention, developing common assessments and approaches to bullying.

According to Mr. White, administration and some other staff members will be attending a three-day workshop in Boston on the topic of "professional learning communities," which emphasize professional development in two tiers: "learning for all," where teachers improve their own skill sets through learning, would be a hazardous waste pick-up day for Rochester and Mattapoisett residents at 200 Ryder Road in Rochester on Saturday, June 26 from 9:00 am to 12:00 pm. For more information, Rochester residents should call 508-763-1991.

In regards to the Rochester Memorial School expansion project, Mr. LaCamera said that the "school project is going extremely well," with septic, well, drainage and the foundation all in place. During the first two weeks of July, the pre-cast walls will be installed. "Everything is on schedule," Mr. LaCamera added.

Mr. LaCamera and Highway Surveyor Jeffrey Eldridge applied to FEMA (Federal Emergency Management Agency) for reimbursement related to the repair and overtime costs that the town of Rochester incurred as a result of serious spring rains and flooding. Mr. LaCamera said that he would keep the Board apprised of FEMA's response.

The Board received a request via Mr. LaCamera from the Plumb Corner Business Association to waive the $50 building permit fee related to the circus that the Association is hosting on June 24. Since the fee had to be paid by someone, and waiving it would require the town to incur the costs, the Board voted to deny the waiver. "That's the cost of doing business," said Chairman Parker, who noted that the circus would profit from the visit.

"We're absorbing some cost as it is," added Mr. LaCamera. "It's a tough call."

Mr. LaCamera updated the Board on their current contract status for office supplies from W.B. Mason. By pooling their bidding with surrounding towns, Rochester managed to get an even better quote from the company, saving as much as 51 percent on some supplies.

The state of Massachusetts is currently standardizing GIS (geographic information system) mapping in all communities, along with its 9-1-1 system, which will be attached to the mapping. Mr. LaCamera said that the state was aiming for a finish date of October 1. The final product will also standardize all address information. "I think this is a really great thing," said Mr. LaCamera.

There is currently no SRPEDD (Southeastern Regional Planning and Economic Development District)

Selectmen, they discussed pursuing a joint venture with Wareham to hire a town planner to service both towns. Wareham has currently advertised the position for its own needs, but will consider either sharing the pool of candidates with Rochester or relisting the job to describe it as a shared position.

According to Mr. LaCamera, Wareham is willing to consider a 50/50 or a 50/60 split. It is likely that the two towns would agree to having a town planner spend two days in Rochester and three days in Wareham, with the candidate attending all planning board meetings and annual/special town meetings in both municipalities.

Wareham received over 20 resumes for their town planner position, and has narrowed down the field of candidates to 8-10 resumes. The two towns may consider forming an interview committee together, but the Rochester Planning Board thought that the first step should probably be a joint meeting with the Wareham Planning Board to discuss the possible joint venture.

"The money is under your budget," said Chairman Parker to the Planning Board. "It's your decision."

Additional attendees included Superintendent Douglas White, Interim Principal Lyn Rivet, Director of Student Services Teresa Hamm, School Business Administrator Kathleen Isernio, Director of Facilities Steve Murphy, and Director of Food Services Suzanne Souza.

As the first order of business, the committee voted to retain Ms. McCarthy and Mr. Gordon as Chairperson and Vice Chairperson, respectively.

In his report, the superintendent said an ORCTV task force is investigating the development of more deliverables for airing on the network. The station is looking at broadcasting more education-related activities and events.

On the topic of regionalizing Tri-Town schools, Mr. White said the district is looking into obtaining a grant to propel the process. He anticipates that a $5,000 grant is feasible to help the district determine its next steps on whether to regionalize.

The principal then presented her report on the happenings at Sippican Elementary School. She commended students' behavior on a recent field trip to historic places in Marion led by ORR School District Committee member Thomas Shire. Ms. Rivet also said a consultant recently visited four teachers to prep them for next year's new math curriculum, Every Day Math. The principal also said that in the fall, some classes will move to different rooms to help keep grades more "horizontally and vertically aligned."

Volunteers at Sippican Elementary (VASE) President Rania Lavranos then thanked the committee for their financial contributions towards a new playground in back of the school. Mr. Gordon personally thanked Ms. Lavranos for her efforts. "Everyone seems to love it; it is a different kind of playground," he said. Ms. Lavranos did note that the playground is a little wobbly already and thus the manufacturers are arriving soon to enlarge the footings due to rough soil conditions.

Ms. Lavranos also announced plans underway for this fall's fundraiser; she said the event is scheduled for Nov. 6 and likely will be a wine tasting.

Mr. Murphy – the recently hired Facilities Director – then provided an update on his building assessments. He said the building commissioner offered his services to help make repairs to leaking chillers. He said he has completed 75 percent of room surveys, and that the mechanical evaluation is completed. He already has discovered certain areas in need of repair and maintenance – including non-functioning sump pumps and an outdated central system – but said that the full details will be provided in an upcoming report.

"We're moving along fairly well. I give a thank you to staff for its cooperation," he said.

The committee then approved the May 19 minutes with modifications.

In her business report, Ms. Isernio stated that the balance of the Sippican School budget as of that time is $105,012.01, representing $35,525.50 for regular day and $60,486.51 for special education. More invoices are forthcoming, though, and she had no estimate for the final school year balance. She then received approval for several transfers, the most notable being a transfer of $82,726.12 from transportation, equipment maintenance and school administration line items to the area of

In a report on Sippican's school lunch program, Ms. Souza announced that she is in contact with a representative from Michelle Obama's program Chefs Move To School to train staff on preparing healthier products.

Overall, she said students should expect some changes to lunch fare, namely the removal of ice cream (to be replaced with fruit bars), and the presence of healthier snacks overall. Ms. Souza informed the committee that some lunch produce would be provided locally by farmers from Westport, Rehoboth and Falmouth. She also said that trays might be redesigned to assist children in obtaining a nutritionally well-rounded meal.

On a related topic, Mr. White announced that due to the economy and a heightened presence of Ms. Souza in the Sippican School cafeteria, a school lunch price increase "is not appropriate at this time."

At this point, the superintendent announced the need for a committee member to serve on a board that will explore the pros and cons of regionalizing Tri-Town schools. This member would serve with Chairperson McCarthy for an undetermined amount of time. Mr. Pateakos volunteered to join this fact-finding committee.

The committee then quickly approved a $100 gift card designated for teacher Diane Cooke and the Sippican Garden Club. The committee also approved a three percent increase in the leases for Mattapoisett YMCA and SMEC. Mr. Gordon said that space is available for any businesses or organizations looking for a space to congregate.

In other news, Mr. White said that per the non-resident student policy, families of students would be required to submit three pieces of documentation verifying their statuses as Marion residents. More information will be sent alongside the packet of forms sent every year before school, Ms. Rivet said. Ms. Winters stressed that this request will occur only one time. "I know it is a bit onerous at the onset, but it is worth it," she said.

In the SMEC report, Mr. Pateakos said that an after-school social skills program would be launched in the fall for autistic children. He also said SMEC applied for an American History grant and a grant to fund anti-bullying professional development. In a short report, Mr. White said that READS approved a new policy handbook

To the Editor:

In response to the June 10, 2010 issue of The Wanderer regarding the article "Board Addresses Goodspeed Island Dog Issue," I would like to offer the townspeople of Mattapoisett a say as to the dog usage of this beach. I have created a petition to rightfully take back the dog beach. As quoted in the aforementioned article, "the beach was likely designated a dog beach at a town meeting in the 1990's, but the vote was rendered unofficial due to the fact that it was not recorded in the town meeting minutes."

Let us hold a meeting and make the records state that "we are taxpayers and we have the right to bring our dogs to the water."

Approximately 6,500 hundred people reside in Mattapoisett. There are 839 dogs currently registered and lawfully licensed in Mattapoisett. Our companions consist of approximately one-eighth of our population. Revenue derived from this licensing is approximately $5,900.

Simply put, our dogs are entitled access to at least

ROTH IRA'S

What direction do you think taxes will be going in the future?

A significant tax planning opportunity?

Roth IRA Conversions

With the Tax law changes for 2010 regarding ROTH IRA Accounts, many individuals now have the ability to convert their Traditional IRA Account to a ROTH IRA Account which represents a significant tax planning opportunity.

With Traditional IRA Accounts and meeting the requirements, contributions are deductible the year that they are made. Taxes are deferred until distributed from the account. This can be a pay me later scenario.

With a Roth IRA the contributions are never deductible because contributions are made with after tax dollars. However, if all the requirements are met, the contributions plus the gains may be withdrawn without any tax liability. This is a pay me now scenario.

Is it prudent to take a tax deduction today, to pay taxes later, in what may be a higher tax environment?

There is much more you will need to know about this subject before you make a decision if a conversion is as good as it sounds. You must seek Professional Guidance to determine if this strategy may be beneficial for you.

If you have not been made aware of this change in the tax law pertaining to Roth IRA Accounts, you need to talk to someone who understands the change and how this may impact your retirement years.

To qualify for the tax free penalty free withdrawal of earnings, a Roth IRA must be in place for at least five tax years, and the distribution must take place after age 59 1/2 or due to death, disability, or a first time home purchase (up to $10,000 life time maximum). Before taking any specific action, be sure to consult with your tax professional one area of this precious town. Currently, no "dog parks" are available to this vast population. The town landing is considered acceptable yet it interferes with the loading and unloading of sea vessels, not to mention the oyster shell ridden bottom, which slices canine and human feet.

Residents of Mattapoisett, I implore you to sign a petition which officially makes Goodspeed Island a dog beach. Our pets have a right to swim.

To the Editor:

The Old Rochester Tri-Town Education Foundation was established in 2007 to raise an endowment – called the Lighthouse Fund – to support academic, cultural and civic enrichment activities in the public schools of Marion, Mattapoisett and Rochester. ### Marion Horse Show

The Marion Horse Show will be held on Sunday, July 4 and will start at 8:30 am at Washburn Park. Donations will be accepted at the entrance. Food prepared by the Mattapoissett Lions Club will also be available for purchase at the concession stand.

The Marion Horse Show was founded in 1947 by Charles Washburn as a fundraiser for local groups. Tucked away down a peaceful lane at the end of the July 4 parade route, the show rings at Washburn Park come alive each year to host the Marion Fourth of July Horse Show.

The main ring, built into the hillside and surrounded by a natural stonewall, offers a wonderful view to spectators and a chance for exhibitors to really show off before an appreciative audience.

For over 50 years, many farms and local families have made the Marion Horse Show their Fourth of July tradition. This year, pack a picnic basket or purchase some concessions and make it your tradition as well!

EDITOR'S PICK OF THE WEEK

Mattapoisett Couple Makes a Difference in Kenya

Kenya Relief Part II

Some of the cases are encouraging, like a child who came in at the end of the day with severe febrile seizures and a temperature of 106, the victim of a bite from a malaria-infected mosquito. Without the medical facility, the child would have likely died. But the volunteers worked quickly and saved the child's life – he was even well enough to laugh and play the next day.

Of course, the Wurls described the heart-wrenching cases of hopelessness, like the child who was born with a medical condition where his skin wouldn't stretch to accommodate a growing body. There were also people with tumors so far gone – especially in their neck and head – that they could only wait to die.

Teach a Man to Fish

The crux of the Kenya Relief mission is to give these people a leg up, and to teach them how to sustain themselves. Mr. James' mission was always to teach them how to build and feed themselves, following the adage: "If you teach a man to fish, you'll feed him for a lifetime". To this end, the children stay in the orphanage, where they are up for sponsorship but not adoption.

For children who have gotten used to makeshift "toys" made out of trash balled-up and wrapped with twine, the Wurls provided a few special treats – glow-sticks, soccer balls and bubbles. The children, who had never seen such toys in their lives, had to be taught how to run after and pop bubbles. They looked at the lollipops that volunteers gave them and had no idea that they were supposed to eat the treat. Just like kids, though, they adapted quickly and were enjoying their treats in no time.

Recently, the Old Hammondtown School got into the Kenyan effort as well when students raised $359 by wearing slippers to school in exchange for one dollar. The money was used to purchase flip-flops in Nairobi for the orphans, many of whom either didn't have shoes, or had shoes that were so worn that they were virtually useless. The children were so ecstatic to have the flip-flops, that they didn't care what color they were – a picture showed one boy grinning ear to ear as he shows off his brand-new pink flip-flops.

Despite the grueling nature of the trip – it took three days of flights, bumpy driving and walking, just to get to their destination – the Wurls were invigorated by their experience. Like the other volunteers on the mission, they took considerable risk, since they had to get nine inoculations prior to the trip, and had to take anti-malaria tablets for the week during, and following, their trip. Even for a year following the mission, if either of them becomes ill with a fever, they must be seen by a medical professional immediately to rule out the possibility of malaria.

Remember Me

Some memories and photo snapshots keep the experience alive in the Wurls' minds. In one picture, a little girl named Grace holds her friends hands and grins as she walks in her new shoes. Some of the children had never seen a white face before, but they were more than welcoming to the volunteers. They smiled and laughed, bubbling with affection. The children were eager to hold hands with the relief workers, and one girl, Asha, had a simple request to make of Ms. Wurl:

"Remember me," she said. Asha, who was the same age as Ms. Wurl's daughter, didn't have running water and didn't have toys, but that didn't matter – as long as someone would remember her, she was content.

"They taught me more than what I could've taught them," Mr. Wurl said of the orphans that he played with while taking breaks from the medical clinic.

The Wurls said that they didn't want to draw attention to their own work, but rather the cause of Kenya Relief. "I want people to know that this exists, that this charity is actually doing things, and that one person can make a difference," Mr. Wurl continued. "These little kids ask for such basic necessities that we take for granted: water, food, a mosquito net so [they] don't die from malaria."

A relatively small amount of American money can make a huge difference in Kenya, said Mr. Wurl. He said that if everyone gave up a coffee or ice cream cone on a daily, or even weekly basis, they could send the difference to an organization like Kenya Relief and make an enormous difference to a child. Likewise, he said that there is a lot of need for medical professionals to donate their time to such a cause.

"Every single day you could go home and you could be happy that you saved somebody," said Mr. Wurl, "and you could cry at the same time about the things that you saw... I think we helped an awful lot of people."

According to Mr. James, the organization is always in need of volunteers, particularly pediatricians, pediatric nurses and general nurse practitioners. In September and October, they will conduct an eye surgery mission and another general surgery mission. Any medical professional interested in participating, or any layperson interested in donating funds or materials should visit www.KenyaRelief.org.

Rochester Land Trust Barn and Garden Tour

Antique Barns, organic gardens, new green homes and gardens, these and many more will be open for public viewing on Sunday, June 27 from 1:00 to 4:00 pm at eight locations throughout Rochester, Massachusetts. The Rochester Land Trust is again holding its Barn and Garden Tour as a fundraiser for its many projects and to let the public be able to see inside of the many farms and gardens that line the roads of Rochester.

The public will be able to tour an organic farm as well as wander the largest row crop farm in Massachusetts. Both cover many acres of fertile Rochester soil and continue the heritage of market farms that go back to when fields of melons were grown on North Avenue and asparagus and gladiolas provided many families with a cash crop.

There will again be an operating horse farm to tour. Another new barn will be housing a display of Rochester History, focusing on the sawmill heritage that also was part of Rochester.

A new barn that will be open this year is an old dairy barn with stanchions and lofts intact. However, instead of being surrounded by cows it is set in a jewel of a garden that contrasts nicely with another open property, a new sustainable green home and garden.

Finally, for the antique barn aficionados, three barns dating back to the 1700's will be open for viewing. In all cases, tour goers will be able to wander around, ask questions about the structures and take pictures,

Participants will purchase $10 per carload tickets, on sale at the RLT booth on the Town Hall Commons on Constitution Road in the center of town. They will receive a map and set off on their self-directed tour around Rochester's roads. The ride will take the cars from the south to north end of Rochester, with pond and field vistas at every turn. All tour goers are asked to conclude the event at the Gilmore's Barn at 333 Walnut Plain Road, where refreshments will be served and displays and discussions of the acquisitions of the RLT will be available.

The tour will be held rain or shine. No dogs allowed on any of the properties. Kids of all ages are

MOVIE REVIEW

Spellbinding

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

Jonah Hex*. Starring Josh Brolin and Megan Fox. Directed by Jimmy Hayward. Running time: 80 minutes. MPAA rating: PG-13.

I've said this about a few other movies, but it especially applies here: Jonah Hex may be the most bizarre film to open on almost 3,000 screens in this country in a very long while. Here is an anti-hero, the titular Jonah Hex (Josh Brolin), an ex-Confederate soldier with a scar that wrenches his face into a permanent sneer. Visually — at least in the comic books that inspired the movie — Jonah is even more hardcore than Clint Eastwood's Man with No Name, who at least could choose to sneer. The movie adds some supernatural stuff not in the comics: Jonah can bring dead men back to life for a few minutes to interrogate them. Only the idiosyncratic Warner Brothers would give us a wide-release summer movie that turns out to be an acid western.

Jonah Hex flies by; it has to, at just eighty minutes, including end credits. The consensus among my critical brothers and sisters is that the result is a choppy mess, but as a spaghetti-western fan I hooked into the gnarled, cynical mood of the piece. Post-war, Jonah is a bounty hunter with no particular use for the north or the south. He betrayed his regiment, led by the psychotic Quentin Turnbull (John Malkovich), who murdered Jonah's Indian wife and son in retaliation. Turnbull, it appears, faked his death and has been keeping busy wreaking havoc and developing some sort of proto-nuclear cannonballs. It's 1876, so a lot of towns are celebrating the country's first centennial and making themselves easy targets for Turnbull's wrath.

In the comics, Jonah was a callous stranger, tough as jerky, who nonetheless had a soft spot for the oppressed. During the war, he reached a point where he couldn't see the sense in risking his life so that some men could remain slaves. The movie touches lightly on this; the Crow Indians save Jonah's life, and a black man provides Jonah with nifty new weapons. Jonah doesn't have a lot of use for white men in general — which links the movie to some of the more political spaghetti westerns, like Sergio Corbucci's Django. Jonah's soft spot extends to a plucky saloon whore, Lilah (Megan Fox), perhaps the only woman who can look at him without flinching (she's certainly the only woman in the movie with a speaking role, and the fake southern accent does Fox some good, takes her out of that breathy Valley Girl cadence she can easily fall into).

Brolin more or less puts across Jonah's grudging heroism. When the movie goes for the usual summer kaboom, Brolin and everyone else gets lost in it, but what mattered to me were the legitimately odd sequences in which Jonah talks to dead men or has trippy flashbacks or even hallucinations of himself fighting Turnbull. And the really painful revelation about Jonah's scar isn't that Turnbull inflicted it by branding his face — it's that Jonah himself inflicted it trying to burn off the brand. Brolin wears all the pain heavily, but not so heavily as to weigh down the essential fun of watching a hardcase gun down scoundrels in a western setting on the big screen. If you've seen a lot of that at the multiplex lately, I want to know which multiplex you've been going to. Whatever else it is or isn't, Jonah Hex is utterly unique out there.

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A plan you've kept on hold for a long time finally could be greenlighted. But in typical Aries form, you'll need to be sure that everything is in place before you hit the "start" button.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Others might urge you to act more quickly on your ideas. But you'd be wise to follow your Bovine instincts and get more facts to bolster your position when you finally present it.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You might be tempted to accept the well-meaning offer of a friend to act as an intermediary in a dispute. But you know best what it's about, and you can handle the challenge. Good luck.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Entertainment can play an important role this week. Enjoy some well-earned diversion with people you care about. Something especially wonderful might come from this well-spent time.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Catnaps and playtime are in order for Leos and Leonas who need to take some time off from their hectic schedules to restore their energies and rebuild their mental muscles. Have fun.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Virgos will need to keep an open mind this week about choices that seem improbable. A closer study might well reveal possibilities that might have been overlooked. Stay with it.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A disappointing outcome of a well-intentioned effort should be seen as a lesson in how to do it right the next time. Note all your changes and have your new plan set up by week's end.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Travel plans might need readjusting because of changes in the costs previously agreed to. Deal with the problem as quickly as possible to minimize any delays that might result.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Your honest approach to an unsettling experience draws admiration from others. Use their positive feedback to build support for your program to introduce needed changes.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Travel is strong in your aspect this week, and so is nostalgia! You might want to consider planning a trip to a place that holds some very special meaning for you. Bon voyage.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A job-related situation could provide an opportunity you hadn't considered before. Look it over carefully and see where and how you can tailor it to fit your needs.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Showing strength as well as sympathy helps you deal with a difficult personal matter. It also helps you set an example for others when it's their turn to get involved in the situation.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a way of making people feel comfortable without losing one whit of your own dignity in the process.

Improved Lots Not Abutting a Common Sewer: Upon application made to the Water/Sewer Commissioners by the Application End Date by an owner of a Non Service Area Lot with a building thereon, which lot does not abut a street with a common sewer therein, the Water/Sewer Commissioners may construct, or permit the owner to construct, an extension from the common sewer to the lot at the discretion of the Commissioners, and in compliance with all other local and state permits that may be required. 3.5.4.4. Improved Lots Abutting a Common Sewer: Owners of Non Service Area Lots with buildings thereon, which lots abut a street with a common sewer therein, may be allowed to make a connection from the building to the common sewer at the discretion of the Commissioners, and in compliance with all other local and state permits that may be required, upon application made to the Water/Sewer Commissioners by the Application End Date. 3.5.4.5. Cost of Sewer Extensions and Connections: The cost of each and every connection described in this Section 3.5.4. shall be added to the overall cost of the Sewer Service Area project to be assessed as a betterment. The cost of each and every extension shall be paid in full in advance of construction by the applicant. 3.5.4.6. No Connections allowed after Application End Date: After the Application End Date, no Non-Service Area Lot shall be allowed to become a part of the project unless the Sewer Commissioners are required to provide a connection by order of the Board of Health of the Town of Mattapoisett. The Sewer Commissioners may only deny such an order if for engineering reasons such a connection is not possible. 3.5.4.7. No Connections allowed North of Pump Station: In order to protect the integrity of the sewerage system of the Town of Mattapoisett, no individual or group of individuals shall be allowed to connect their property or properties to any portion of the sewer main that is North of the Pump Station located on Mattapoisett Neck Road as that part of the sewer main is not designed for individual connections. 3.5.5. As the Town will own grinder pumps on private property, each lot owner must, as a condition of connecting to the common sewer, grant an easement to the Town for the purposes of installing and maintaining said pump, and the Water/Sewer Commission is authorized to accept such easements on behalf of the Town. Any owner of a lot in a Sewer Service Area otherwise entitled to connection who refuses to grant such an easement shall have the right to connect to the common sewer at any time upon granting said easement and shall therefore be assessed	a betterment. Use of grinder pumps shall be in accordance with rules, regulations and directives of the Commissioners. 3.5.6. Betterments: Except as otherwise may be voted by the Mattapoisett Town Meeting for a particular project, one hundred percent of the total cost of all sewer projects shall be assessed as betterments using the uniform unit method, with the objective that the entire project cost, including principal and interest payable on any borrowing associated with all sewer projects, shall be borne by those who benefit from the project. • Summer Reading – This year the Mattapoisett Free Public Library's Summer Reading Program is "Going Green," meaning that the environment, recycling and conservation will be on our minds. Many programs are planned throughout the six weeks for children and their families. For toddlers through teens, the library has something fun on the schedule. Registration began on June 15 and the program itself begins June 29. When families come in to sign up, they will be given a complete schedule of events.

As always, the summer reading program exists to help children retain important reading skills over the summer so they arrive in school in September well prepared. At the same time, offering fun activities for the whole family makes summer at the library very enjoyable. Young readers are asked to read for at least six hours each week or, for pre-readers, they can have someone read to them. At the end of the program, participants will be invited to the Ice Cream Party and Lawn Games event on the lawn.

• Wareham Gatemen Visit – The first special event will be a visit from the Wareham Gatemen on Wednesday, June 30, from 10:30 am through 12:30 pm. Players will be reading to children and signing autographs. Stop by and have your picture taken with the baseball players by the library staff. Weather permitting, children and ball players will take to the "field" on library

Students will view a DVD called Young Voices on Climate Change and then work together on ways we can make a difference right here in town.

I Found the Aardvark!

Each week, hidden somewhere in the pages of The Wanderer is a tiny drawing of an aardvark. The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

Once you find the aardvark you can submit your answer online and if you are right you will get Aardvark Points! You can then use these points to get cool Aardvark Prizes!

Each time you find the Aardvark you will also be entered in our monthly drawing for other cool Aardvark Prizes.

If you would like to enter the monthly drawing by mail, send your name, address and phone number along with the issue date and page number you found him in to: Wanderer - I Found the Aardvark, P.O. Box 102, Mattapoissett, MA 02739. Entries by mail will not be eligible for Aardvark Points.

To enter visit: www.wanderer.com and Click on "I Found the Aardvark"

In the June 17 issue
